#100411 Casa Desiderata

This spectacular home was custom built with great detail in the hills of Lagunas sitting at 750 ft of elevation hovering over the Pacific Ocean with panoramic views of mountains and the ocean that can't be beat!! There are only a few properties past this one on a dead end road so there is extreme privacy, not to mention the 60 ft waterfall on the edge of the property and the 45 acre nature reserve next door!! It is a 15 min drive on a well maintained road to the town of Dominical and many beautiful beaches. The spectacular infinity edge pool is elevated off the ground and has an integrated yoga platform. There is also an outside covered deck for poolside dining. The first floor has a grand lobby, the great room (kitchen and living room), covered car port, the master bedroom with a walk through dressing room, drying deck, private terrace, and en suite bath, another half bath, and under the stairs is a one of a kind goldfish pond!! Some other unique features in this home are the laundry shoot, the dehumidified pantry and dvd / book closet, and the indoor / outdoor tropical bird cage!! The second floor has 2 bedrooms each with private bathrooms and balconies, and a large multipurpose studio (living room) with access to one of the bathrooms. The studio is designed so that if someone wanted to, they could easily put in another wall and add a fourth bedroom. On top of all of this the house comes equipped with a security system, stainless steel appliances, granite countertops, whole house stereo system, 5 air conditioners, gated entry, and much more! The owners put amazing detail into this home expecting to live here for many years to come. Unfortunately they need to move back to the US and leave their dream home behind. They are very motivated to sell and willing to listen to any reasonable offers.
